They were thrown much in contact while this work was in progress, and friendship developed into a tenderor feeling. Her vast wealth, it is said, was considered by Mr. Searles in the light of a bar to the realization of his hopes, and he did not press his suit until an incident occurred which led him to believe that his notions in that respect were too nice and were not shared in by other male friends of the lady.

Hather a pretty story is teld in this connection. Some San Francisco newspapers, it is said, had printed an announcement of the engagement of Mrs. Mark Hopkins to Lieut. Cotton, U. S. A. It was said that this was the direct cause of the sudden and quiet wedding of Searles and the widow.

When the decorator saw the name of Lieut. Cotton coupled with that of Mrs. Hopkins he determined to put his fate to the test. One day when Mrs. Hopkins stood in the railway station, surrounded by triends, the decorator rushed to her, threw his arms about her neck and kissed her on the lips. The advantages claimed for the cable are that the cars can be run at higher speed, with greater cleanliness and comfort to passengers. The success of the line on One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street and Tenth avenue hasled rafilway managers to look upon the cable motors as desirable, from both business and humanitarian points of view.

President Curtis, of the Sixth avenue road, could not be seen by an Evennu World responter this morning, but it is learned that the change in motive power has been fully decided upon by the Company, to be made as soon as the requisite permission can be obtained.
